I have worked in both union and nonunion places. I know the difference between feeling that an unfair boss can bully, threaten, sexually harrass and fire without consequences and workers can do nothing, and a workplace where workers have support for coming forward when things aren't right, without having their livelihood threatened and character smeared. Unions are the difference. They are vital to creating safe work places, especially for the workers who are most at risk--the people who clean, take care of the elderly and children, pick crops, teach, work in fields, mines and in dangerous places.

Not everyone owns their own company, most of us work for others. Unions make working conditions better for everyone. I still belong to the AFT-retired. Together we make education better for kids, not just the people who taught them. Like wanting to limit class size.

I have been a union member all my life; my father belonged to the Postal Workers Union. We both, proudly can say we were union representatives

I cannot understand why the government elected officials that are elected to represent the "average American citizens" work so hard to oppose us and thwart us at every point! You are supposed to represent us and help us, yet you work regularly to make life more difficult for the working class particularly those that have sought the protection of unions!

Please do the job that you were selected to do and support all workers in particular those that have elected to have union representation.

Additionally at the heart of these rules is the right of labor/employees to be able to negotiate fair wages and benefits. These rights were built on the backs and unfortunately blood of past generations of workers. Let's assure fairness in a world where all the power is in the hands of industry- not the workers or union members. Thank you.
